Time for Your Questions...

“What are the important details to document of your contingent workers?”

“Are you able to store SSN and birthdate for contingent workers?”

“With such a large percentage of our contingent workforce transitioning remote, how are companies managing costs for remote worker expenses?”

“How should you prepare for suppliers that are unable to sustain their business?”

“With non-critical businesses shut down, background check processes have been impacted. How can we onboard talent without the ability to run background checks?”

“Is anyone seeing suppliers evoking/requesting Force Majeure clauses in agreements?”

“Is paying staff augmentation worker that are impacted a co-employment risk?”

“Is remote work shifting from a temporary BCP solution to the new normal?”

“What functionality does Beeline have to help businesses manage business continuity?”

About Staffing Industry Analysts (SIA)

Founded in 1989, SIA is the global advisor on staffing and workforce solutions. Our proprietary research covers all categories of employed and non-employed work including temporary staffing, independent contracting and other types of contingent labor. SIA's independent and objective analysis provides insights into the services and suppliers operating in the workforce solutions ecosystem including staffing firms, managed service providers, recruitment process outsourcers, payrolling/compliance firms and talent acquisition technology specialists such as vendor management systems, online staffing platforms, crowdsourcing and online work services. We also provide training and accreditation with our unique Certified Contingent Workforce Professional (CCWP) program.

Known for our award-winning content, data, support tools, publications, executive conferences and events, we help both suppliers and buyers of workforce solutions make better-informed decisions that improve business results and minimize risk.

As a division of the international business media company, Crain Communications Inc., SIA is headquartered in Mountain View, California, with offices in London, England.
